A Handbook of Third Sector Entities, Cooperatives, Benefit Societies and their Relations with the Public

by Alceste Santuari

Introduced by Andrea Crismani

*Full Professor of Administrative Law, University of Trieste
Head of the Master 'DMTS - Third Sector Law and Management'*

Third-sector entities, cooperatives and benefit societies represent legal organisations dedicated to achieving general interest objectives. This handbook analyses their legal profiles, addressing not only students in the subjects of Law of Third Sector Entities and Cooperatives and Public-Private Partnerships, but also practitioners of non-profit organisations, cooperative societies, benefit societies, civil servants, managers and representatives of local authorities, as well as notaries, chartered accountants and lawyers.

Alceste Santuari is Associate Professor of Economic Law at the University of Bologna, belonging to the Department of Sociology and Economic Law. He holds the following teaching positions: Economic Law of Non-Profit Entities and Cooperation, Economic Law, Public-Private Partnerships and Public Economic Law.
